

Dr. Patricia A. Ryan Biography

Dr. Patricia A. Ryan is a professor, and holds a BA in Psychology from Siena College, a MA in Public Administration from California State University, Northridge, and a PhD in Business, Management and Organization from Capella University. She served as the Interim Executive Dean of the Forbes School of Business & Technology, Associate Dean, and Chair of Marketing and Strategic Management and obtained full rank of Professor after 13 years of teaching 100+ undergraduate and graduate courses. She is currently the Academic Program Chair of the BA in Business Leadership. She has 30 years of management and executive management/leadership experience in Fortune 100 and 500s along with nonprofits, in specialized areas such as institutional banking, marketing, finance, insurance, securities, and technology.